Park-"The Midnight Special." The Park is having a few days of sensational melodrama, about the fast it will have this season. "The Midnight Special," which opened yesterday, is well staged and acted. While the story is not new, it is well told and the performance one that is enjoyed by the Park's big audiences. A number of lively specialties are introduced. The scenic effects show a depot, a distillery, a stock broker's office, with "tickers," etc., a burning telegraph office and the passage of the midnight special. In the company are Worrell, T. B. Depew, Hugo Gerber, Charles Lambert, James Jackson and others. "The Midnight Special" remains to-day and to-

DR. RONDTHALER SAYS GOOD-BYE. He Presides at His Last Prayer Meeting at the Tabernacle.

Rev. Dr. Rondthaler, the retiring pastor of Tabernacle Church, presided at the regular prayer meeting services last night and spoke parting words to his flock. The church was crowded, many people standing up or occupying seats in the galleries. Besides the regular Tabernacle congregation Rev. W. B. Dunham, of Tabernacle Chapel, West Indianapolis, and Rev. Frank C. Hood, of the East Washington-street Presbyterian Church, were there with a large following. All felt the significance of the nour, and tenderest words of farewell came from demorrow, with matinees each afternoon. Next week "A Baggage Check" comes, with James T. Kelly, Lizzie Melrose and other Rev. W. B. Dunham the retiring pastor came to the platform and took charge of the meeting. He asked for a hymn, and' some one suggested "Take Thou My

> "Yes, let us have that," said Dr. Rondthaler; "it is just what we want for this occasion," and the congregation joined in the singing. Dr. Rondthaler then spoke for ten minutes, telling his people of the great love he has for them. He spoke feelingly of their past relations and of the hope he has for the future of the church,

"It is a happy thing," he said, "that we close our temporal relations with a prayer service of this kind. Whatever success has come to my pulpit is owing to your prayers. They have inspired me and have strengthened me. These prayer meetings are so full of the heavenly Father's love, and I trust they will go on in this way, and that there will be sweeter communion and closer d Herbert, O'Brien and harel, Mathews brightest history of this church bulger, Fields and Wooley, Kenno and elch, Edwin Latell. Grace Sherwood, of this church is yet to be wr ten in years to come. Let me ask you, brethren, to stand close together, especially during the short time that you will be without a pastor. You have not been worshipers of a man. If there has been any truth in the teachings of that man, you have been taught to worship God only. Now, let the peace of God rest in your hearts. As I look back over the eleven years and a half of my life with you it seems to me only a shining, unbroken stream, without a ripple. I charge you, the men and women, to keep in the peace of God, sacrificing everything but principle and right, that this peace may rule in the car and hurled the occupants along the land right, that this peace may rule in the car and hurled the occupants along the land right, that this peace may rule in the car and hurled the occupants along the land right. and right, that this peace may rule in the church. Continue in the energy of your work; let the old energy come back again. The best test of a man's work is when his individuality is taken out of it and it goes on. I look for fruits of the eleven years and a half of my work. I expect fruit, and it will be found and reaped in the energy with which this congregation shall work."

Dr. Rondthaler spoke of the work of the Rescue Mission, in which Tabernacle Church has been prominent. Seeing Mr. Wheeler, the head of the mission, in the rear of the house, he called to him:

"Stand up, Mr. Wheeler, for my sake;
just let the people look at you." Mr.
Wheeler arose to his feet, his immense figure towering above the audience, and was "People of the Tabernacle Church," con-tinued Dr. Rondthaler, "for my sake-no, for the sake of Jesus Christ, keep your hearts open to that Rescue Mission. I have sat in that place and have seen the dark-ness go out of hearts and the light come in. I have seen faces there change from hell to heaven, and I have felt that I was sitting in a heaven'y place with Christ Jesus. Friends, I can't say good-bye to you. When a man's wife is taken from him it is a good thing if he can put a church in her place and pour out love and affection on that church. May God bless you. When I hear that a new pastor has come to this church he will get one of the warmest, joiliest letters from me that a departing guest ever wrote to a new arrival.' Pastor and people were deeply touched by these words, so full of cheer and hope, and yet fraught with the sorrow that came with the thought of separation. Tears of regret coursed down many cheeks. "But mind," said he, "It is understood that there is to be no more speaking of me. It is to be about the church." Rev. Frank Hood, of the East Washington-s reet Church, spoke briefly, thanking Dr. Rond-thaler for his kind words of advice and his work in the interest of the smaller congregation. Some one in the congregation arose and said, with a voice full of earnestness: "It has been said that the prayer meetings should be measured by weight. We know that if the hearts of the people here tonight were weighed this would be the heaviest prayer meeting in the history of the Don't talk about me; talk about the church." A ripple of laughter broke over the congregation, and eyes were dried and there were more short talks.

Dr. Rondthaler said it was fitting that the services should close with the hymn "God Be with You Till We Meet Again," and three verses were sung. W. N. Harding then came forward with the following resolutions, which were adopted by the unanimous vote of the congregation:

"Whereas, It is with the deepest regret

PROGRAMME OF THE NEW CABINET OUTLINED TO PARLIAMENT.

Applause Given in Both Chambers-Vote of Confidence Asked for and Granted by the Deputies.

PARIS, April 30 .- At the opening of the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Meline, the new Premier, read a statement in which the government recognizes the preponderance of the Chamber of Deputies, but affirms that it is impossible to govern without the Senate. M. Meline said that the government desired to pursue a pacifying policy and appeal to the good will of the Republican majority for a settlement of urgent quesspread of revolutionary doctrines. Continuing, the Premier said that the government would not fail in its duty to enforce respect for the laws and maintain public order. M. Meline concluded with adjuring Parliament to not raise irritating questions in the interest of France, which, he asserted, thirsted for peace and tranquillity.

When the statement of the Prime Minister was read in the Senate it was heartily applauded. The Senate, by a vote of 214 to 42, refused to consider a private member's proposal for a revision of the Constitution. In anticipation of the announcement of the ministerial programme the galleries of the Chamber of Deputies were crowded and there was a fuil attendance of members. Premier Meline's statement was greeted with applause by the Centrists, particularly in its denunciation of the Socialists. M. Goblet maintained that the Cabinet had been choser from outside of the Republican-Progressist majority. In the formation of a Cabinet, he added, the Chamber of Deputies and not the Senate, should have been consulted. He ex-pressed the hope that the Deputies would vote against the government. M. Paul Deschanel spoke, urgently advocating revis-M. Meline replied that it was impossible for the Ministry to discuss the question of re-vision at this time, but that the matter would come before the Chamber of Deputies in due season. The Premier then asked the Chamber for a vote of confidence. He decared that harmony between the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate is necessary to the proper conduct of the government. At ready to acknowledge the right of universal suffrage. The government's programme, M. Meline said, was based on the known wishes of the country.

M. Bourgeois, Premier of the late Cabinet asked M. Meline if the direction of the country's policy belonged to the Chamber of Deputies or to the Senate. The recent attitude of the last-named body, M. Bourgeois said, was in the nature of an attempt to seize the direction of policy. The Chamber of Deputies, M. Bourgeois asserted, should uphoid its vote of April 23, affirming the predominance of the representatives of universal suffrage a policy of democratic reform. plause from the members of the Left fol-lowed this declaration. M. Bourgeois concluded by saying: "We stand ready for a dis-solution of Parliament and for revision of the Constitution. It is the duty of the na-tional assembly to define the powers of the Chamber of Deputies and of the Senate." M. Meline asked why it was that M. Bour geois demanded that the present government undertake the revision of the Constitution when he had avoided that task himself. The government, he said, would repudiate that policy as tending to dangerous agitation.

M. Ricard, Minister of Justice in the late
Cabinet, reintroduced his motion of April 23, to which M. Bourgeois had just alluded, and demanded urgency for it, which, on demand of M. Meline, was rejected by a vote of 279

GRAND RAPIDS, April 30.-History has epeated itself. In Indianapolis the Grand Rapids team won a game by a score of 9 to 6 and lost one by a score of 3 to 1. In Grand Rapids the champions lost a 3 to game and this afternoon won by a score of 9 to 6. Batting was even and Grand Rapids played the cleanest fielding game, but both pitchers put in the box were wild, Walters, especially, making gifts of runs. Of five bases on balls, four resulted in runs. Aside from his wildness he pitched good ball. Damman, in the box for the visitors, was a puzzle and he was as steady as an eight-day clock. The feature of the game was the batting of McCarthy and the outfield work of Gilkes, who got under nine long flies, most of which looked exceedingly safe. A strong wind had a tendency to blow the ball into foul ground and probably cut hits short for both sides. The Hoosiers batted Lloyd freely in the first, second and third innings, earning their runs by good batting, Hogriever, McCarthy and Stewart having their eyes wide open. Lloyd was reput in with better results. Grand Rapids made a desperate effort to fight the game out and several times got men enough on bases to win, but invariably a sharp double play resulted in the retirement of the side. Mc-Carthy's three-base hit was the longest on the grounds this year and but for exceedingly sharp fielding would have been a home run. Attendance, 900. Score:

Washington Condemns the State University Ball Team. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WASHINGTON, Ind., April 30 .- In the game of baseball here between the State University, of Bloomington, and the Washington Grays, the home club was robbed by the umpire. The trick was done in the sixth inning, when the umpire called a man safe at home plate on a bad throw, which let in two home men. I. U. kicked and refused to continue unless the umpire reversed his decision, which the captain of the home club allowed. The college boys have lost many friends here by their conduct. They kicked at everything, even at their own umpire, who gave them more than they deserved. The home club is by far the better club and would have won had they not conceded everything to I. The reports that have been circulated to the effect that a meeting of baseball promoters was held here with a view of organizing a State league are false. The management of the Logansport club gives out that there has never been an intimation of such a meeting here. The Logansports will play the Muncie club here next Sunday.

Baseball Notes.

Now for Detroit.

Umpire Sheridan's work has made a hit in the National League. First baseman Carey, who was farmed by Baltimore to Rochester, is in bad health and has been sent home. Bostonians already claim for Bergen, the ex-Kansas City catcher, that he is the finest throwing catcher in the League. The Milwaukee people are kicking on the batting ability of the Brewers, and say that they are the weakest in the league. Manager Stallings has received a telegram from McCloskey asking for the loan of Burnett until Holmes gets out of the hospital. Corcoran's thumb is badly split, and he may not be able to play for a week. Burnett will take his place at short for De-

Knoll has completely won Detroit, but the people have yet to see him do his best. He made some catches down the line recently which drove the crowds wild. Manager Watkins said he would bring the team back with a better percentage than when it left home. To do so he must win four of the remaining six games. Phillips will pitch to-day at Detroit, Mon-roe to-morrow and Cross on Sunday, when the two teams play at Mount Clemens. The Detroits will play all their Sunday games

Pittsburg is now in first place. Last year the team went into first place on April 24 and held the position until June 10 with only one day's setback, when the Cincinnati Reds were in the lead.

Jimmy Manning says that next year he will have his team report for practice at Los Angeles, and come East by easy stages. This is carrying the spring practice idea into execution with a vengeance. The sacrifice hitting of the Detroits is clever, and will win games. There is nothing that ties team playing, and Stallings promises to show a lot of it this year. Maryland Huille Race. WASHINGTON, April 30 .- To-day's programme at Bennings was not a particularly attractive one, though the $1,000 Maryland hurdle race, at two miles and a quarter, over ten hurdles, resulted in a good contest. Caracas was a big favorite. Woodford, the outsider, made all the running, and won easily, Golden Gate fell at the proved an easy winner. Kinglet, a slight favorite over Eclipse for the second, won in a canter. Sue Kitty, a three-to-five favorite for the handicap at a mile, was badly beaten, Prig leading all the way. Hawardin, at almost prohibitive odds, won the fourth as he pleased.

BEAN EATERS WON. Hamilton Scored the Winning Run in the Ninth Inning. BOSTON, April 30.-Boston defeated Baltimore to-day in an exciting game from beginning to end. It was nobody's game until Hamilton crossed the plate and made the winning run in the ninth inning on a base hit by Long. Both Nichols and McMahon were batted freely, neither striking out a man. Hurst was somewhat off in his umpiring, but not partial. The weather was cold, but over 2,500 people saw the game.

Batteries-Nichols and Ganzel; McMahon and Clarke. Earned runs—Boston, 2; Baltimore, 1. Two-base hits—Doyle (2), Clarke. Sacrifice hit—Nichols. Stolen bases—Hamilton (3). Brodie. Bases on balls—Off McMahon: Duffy, Tucker, Ganzel; off Nichols: Kelley, Reitz. First base on errors—Boston, 1: Baltimore, 1. Left on bases-Boston, 7: Baltimore, 5. Passed balls-Ganzel, 2. Wild pitches-Nichols, 2. Hit by pitcher-McManon. Time-2:10. Umpire-Hurst.

Senators Nearly Shut Out. DROOKLYN, April 30.-The Washingtons would have been shut out to-day had Anderson and McCarthy played with more care in the second inning. Their errors allowed the Senators to score their only runs. In the seventh inning it was nip and tuck. In the eighth inning, with three men on bases, Daly hit to far left field. The hit was good for a home run, but Daly stopped running when he reached third. Payne pitched a fine game. The same can also be said of McJames. Attendance, 4,000. Score:

Colts Win the First at Home. CHICAGO, April 39.-The Colts played their first game at home to-day, defeating last hurdle, but was remounted and took third money. Marsh Harrier, also equally in demand with Lizzie II for the first, was rather tame throughout, sensational and brilliant plays being few and far between. Everett, Lange and Truby did mos of the batting, while both pitchers played perfectly in their fielding and were ably sup-ported by their backstops. Threatening weather kept the attendance down to about

Louisville After Ward for Manager. LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30.-John M Ward, the baseball player, has been offered

$5,000 to manage the Louisville baseball club both off and on the field. The deal has been on for some time, but the management kept the matter a secret, and it only leaked out to-day. When seen to-day in regard to the deal, Mr. Dehler, one of the directors of the club, said: "If Ward, with his energy, experience and well-known methods of management of the club, said: "If ward, with his energy, experience and well-known methods of management of the control of the control of the club, said: "If ward, with his energy, experience and well-known methods of management of the control of the aging, can be secured, with the money the directors are willing to invest in good material, he will be able to place this year a club in the field that will make the first division. The negotiations have not, however, been closed, and it is possible that they will not be. In that event the club has another good man in view.'

All Favor the Centennial. Many responses are being received dally by the Centennial Commission to the circulars sent out asking for views in reference to the advisability of holding the proposed celebration. It may be stated that the responses are unanimously in favor of such an effair. Occasionally somebody writes that he does not think it advisable, but these negative responses are so few and far between that the sentiment is practically a unit in favor of a great celebration. A Lagrange county man, who is enthusiastic over the matter, urges that some method be adopted by which everybody can attend the exposition. He wants to see every boy and girl in the State enabled to visit Indiananolis some time during the progress of the cele-bration. He thinks that special arrange-ments should be made with the railroads for the transportation of the poorer classes to the transportation of the poorer classes to the capital, and that they should be furnished entertainment while in the city. Another correspondent, writing from Noble county, suggests that the superintendents of the various public schools in the State can largely assist in a commendable representation of educational interests by pursuing the same methods as were followed out prior to the world's fair.
